

Tamika Stafford

Tamika Stafford was born and educated in New York City. She moved to Atlanta in 2005.

Tamika has worked in various positions in banking for the last seventeen years, the last ten of which have been spent at BB&T (Branch Banking & Trust) as a Market Leader, Small Business and Consumer Lender. She currently serves as the Atlanta BB&T Community Business Development Officer. In this role, she supports micro and small businesses in the community by demystifying the banking relationship and shows how to access capital with traditional banks or alternative sources.

Empowering others to be self-sufficient and well-informed is a passion of Tamika's. She's facilitated financial wellness seminars advising as to credit, borrowing and access to capital for businesses at events held by Greater Atlanta Economic Alliance, ATLNext, Georgia Minority Supplier Diversity Council, Emory's Goizueta Business School's START:ME Business Accelerator Program, Clayton County Library Headquarters, Operation Hope, Kennesaw State University, Piedmont College, Best Academy, Marietta City Housing Authority, Marietta High School, Cobb Works, COGIC, Delta Sigma Theta, Delta Sigma Pi and many others.

Tamika enjoys serving on the Advisory Board for WorkSource Georgia Workforce Development Board since 2009. She has a member of the BB&T Corporate Women's Information Network and Co-Chair for the Atlanta Chapter since 2015. Most recently, Tamika has been appointed Chair of the Corporate Advisory Board for the Atlanta Black Chamber.

On a personal note, she enjoys traveling, the theater and reading.
